FLORENCE PEEBLES

DEDICATION

In the same spirit that other men laid wreaths of simple olive upon the brows of those they honored, we dedicate this book to Florence Peebles, who has not only won a high place in the annals of science, but has shared her knowledge that mankind might be enriched.

FOREWORD

Let this book serve as a window through which the light of memory shall fall upon the walks and vine-hung walls of the Alma Mater. And may it lend to us her light when we shall have taken the separate paths of tomorrow.

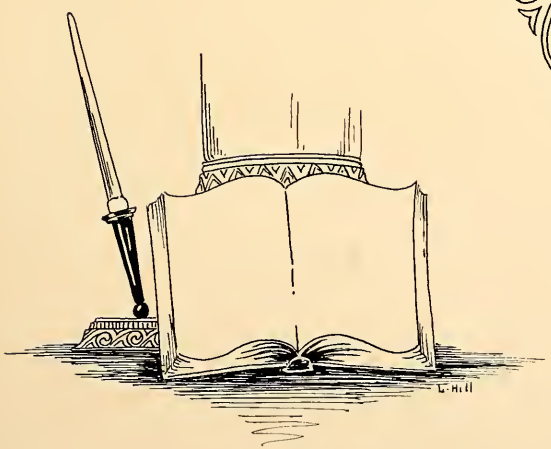
ADMINISTRATION



Greetings to the Class of '35

At no time in the history of our country has there been a greater demand for intelligent, sane and courageous leadership than at the present. The political, industrial, social and religious skies are gloomy and portend confusion, disaster and possibly a radical change in the form of our national government. Many of the anchors holding the people of our nation to high ideals of patriotism, family loyalty and religious fidelity have parted and we are drifting. Clear-headed, Christ-inspired, courageous leaders must come to the rescue and take control of the "Ship of State," or we may be hopelessly lost. I am happy that at Chapman College young men and women are being prepared to assume leadership in all departments of our national life.

May Chapman College never lose its high educational standard and ever maintain the physical, intellectual, social and spiritual training that has given it so excellent a name among institutions of higher learning, and which is so essential for complete living and the right sort of leadership.

My sincere wish is that every member of the Class of '35 may carry into his life of service in the world the spirit of Chapman College and so live that he may reflect honor and credit on his Alma Mater.

Sincerely yours,
Charles C. Chapman.

Message from President Cheverton

Yesterday is past. Tomorrow never comes. We live in the "ETERNAL NOW."

To develop such respect for the past that we may take warning from its failures and go forward in the light of its successes; to vision so wisely into the future that the picture of our hopes may inspire us to heroic and wholesome adventure; to accustom ourselves so to live in the present that men and women, and boys and girls, of every class and tongue, may feel the balm of our friendship and share with us the joy of worth-while accomplishment: such, we believe, to be the goal of Christian education, and such the accepted task of the trustees and faculty of Chapman College.

Enlightened by the past, inspired by the future, we revel in the opportunities, and seriously attempt to answer the challenges, of an ever-present, TODAY.

Signed,
C. F. Cheverton.

FACULTY

ROY G. BOSE, Professor of Education and Psychology.

His classes inspired a very rare phenomenon—the saving of lecture notes.

WALTER S. HERTZOG, Professor of Sociology.

He never failed to be interesting—or to make the next assignment.

PAUL DELP, Asst. Professor of Philosophy and Psychology.

To say that his classes were well worth the finals he gave, is tribute enough.

FLORENCE PEEBLES, Professor of Science.

The respect she gave us for her courses cannot be explained—nor our lecture notes.

FACULTY

FLOYD MERCER, Instructor in Political Science.

He will be remembered and loved with much greater devotion than was ever used in keeping notes on his reading assignments.

RALPH W. WELCH, Professor of History and Physical Education.

He combined the task of being both "coach" and Professor of History by making history on the credit side of scoreboards.

DORIS N. RICHARDSON, Instructor in Physical Education for Women.

Because of her, the timid She in strength doth rival the mighty He.

DAVID H. SPRONG, Professor of Foreign Languages.

The flunk slips and chapel-cut notices that rained upon us from his office, never dampened our love for him.

FACULTY

BERTHA J. MacKAY, Professor of Speech.

Some students will never breathe correctly. Few will pause. But to all of them she has given confidence.

ROMA H. CONROY, Asst. Professor in English.

Gentlemen, a toast!

MARTELLA C. LANE, Professor of Art.

A fine artist, she has made her position unique by being also a fine teacher.

MARY CARR MOORE, Professor of Theory and Musical History.

Those who love music must share the same affection for Mrs. Moore.

FACULTY

NELLE GOTHOLD, Professor of Voice.

As in the old legend, crows have gone into her office to come out nightingales.

MARGUERITE LE GRAND, Professor of Piano.

When five, she played before an Archbishop. Unlike most prodigies, she has progressed, and today is recognized as one of the finest artists in her field.

B E Horn
Leona E. Horn

BYRON E. HORN, Professor of History and Philosophy.

Thank heavens for such a spring, in so dry a desert.

WILLIAM P. BENTLEY, Professor of Theology and Literature.

In his class, what you learned, you learned to say five ways.

The Library

Many new books have been added to the library this year, and under the guidance of Jeanne Sumner a smooth and more efficient organization has been worked out than in any preceding year.

As much of the work in this department is done by students, everyone has felt a personal interest in the service.

STUDENT LIBRARIANS

Catherine Webb, Ellsworth Lewis, Kermit Sheets, Bill Linn, Murray McNeil, Ruth Keylin, Thelma Woods, Louise Hill, Dorothy West, Peggy Glover.

The Student Store

Norman Brown added another successful year to his record by making the Student Store a profitable undertaking.

Norman Brown

Several new features were added to the store service, and today the co-op is fitted to provide a large part of the collegian's equipment.

Those who assisted Brown in the store were: Quintin De Young, assistant manager; Edward Robinson, Ralph Franks, Francis Woodbury.

Clerical Department

The efforts of Miss Bertha Munro have made the clerical department a dependable unit in the business structure of the College.

The following students have helped to maintain this standard by their splendid work in the offices:

Margaret Oglesby, Mildred Haulman, Ella Ellis, Martha Shelton, Helen Johnson, and Lois Strahl.

Ellsworth Lewis
President Associated Student Body

The Student Executive

Chief governing body of the students, the Student Executive controls either directly or indirectly all activities and organizations on the campus. It apportions the money of the student body among the publications and various activities. It determines all awards made to publication heads, forensic manager, and organization leaders. It seeks to promote the general interest of the College as well as that of the students.

This year, by meeting with the student body presidents of the So. Calif. colleges, President Ellsworth Lewis brought greater recognition to Chapman College than it has enjoyed at any preceding time.

His administration was marked by outstanding success in all student body undertakings, and he and the other members of the executive may look back upon the past year as one in which Chapman College attained wide recognition for its athletics, forensics, dramatics, and academic progress.

Student Council

OFFICERS

Phyllis Gruwell.....Vice-President

Elsie Emerson.....Secretary

The Student Council is principally instrumental in maintaining discipline upon the College campus. Realizing that decorum is best secured through constructive measures, the council has brought about favorable changes in the library, stimulated personality evaluation, investigated the popular attitude toward required subjects and social participation.

In the middle of the second semester a survey was made of off-campus students' attitudes toward their place in College life. This investigation will lead the way in promoting a closer union between dormitory and outside students.

Thus, by broadening the concept of its purpose, the Student Council has developed valuable premises from which further councils may evolve greater harmony upon the campus.

The Interfraternal Board is largely instrumental in bringing about cooperation among the fraternal organizations. In matters that concern the social affairs of these groups the board takes on a star-chamber importance, and enforces its regulations with threats of "dog housing" offenders.

The Board plans and manages oratorical and athletic contests between the social organizations, as well as determining the rules for rushing season, and the qualifications necessary to eligibilty for a fraternity bid.

Its membership consists of two persons from each fraternity and sorority, together with two members of the faculty.

To this group must go most of the credit for the friendly spirit that prevails among the various Greek-letter clans.

The Associated Men Students, composed of all Chapman men, succeeded in establishing the feeling of unity that is so essential in building that intangible quality—"College Spirit."

The high attainment of its undertakings was largely due to the ability and industry of its officers, who provided interesting entertainment and projects throughout the year.

The A. W. S., to which all Chapman women belong, nourished the feminine love for the social whirl with sneak parties, a Hi-Jinx, a pajama party, and a Christmas party for poor children, held in conjunction with the men students.

In January, faint heart and fair lady were brought together when the women established a date booth in the Administration Building, and thus solved the men's problem —"Whom shall I take to the Women's Formal?"

All men reported the affair well worth the grief that always attends the Formal-bound owner of a tux when he discovers that borrowers have absconded with all but the dicky and a stud.

To the president of the A. W. S. falls the task of coordinating the activities of all women's organizations. Throughout the year she must supervise the work of committees headed by the presidents of the various women's groups. For accomplishing these duties splendidly, Martha Shelton, A. W. S. president, has the admiration of each Chapman woman.

Elsie Emerson

Athletic Council

The Athletic Council is composed of the Women's Athletic Representative, Miss Elsie Emerson; the Men's Athletic Representative, Robert Doran; and two faculty representatives, Mr. Welch and Mr. Hertzog. The purpose of the Athletic Council is to plan and decide upon the issues and problems involved in the athletic program of the College.

The work of the year has centered around scheduled games and meets, expenditures and budgets, and the issuing of awards. Under the auspices of the Athletic Council, the first annual basketball banquet was held the evening of March 22nd. It is hoped that this will become an annual traditional function, in that basketball is the major sport of our campus. The Athletic Council saw fit to institute a minor sports letter this year so that those who played throughout the season on the "B" basketball squad, or those who were winners in intramural tournaments and schedules, or those who have been unable to qualify for varsity letters but were otherwise worthy, would be recognized and rewarded for their service.

The issuing of awards are made at a special assembly sponsored by the Athletic Council. The work of the Council, though not heavy, has been dispatched with efficiency.

By planning and managing several all-student entertainments throughout the year the Social Committee, more than any other organization, has promoted campus friendships.

Traditionally, it opened the year with the College Banquet and the Cum N' Meetem, at which new and old students were introduced to one another.

A Hallowe'en party at Griffith Park was the scene of the first College dance. The annual President's Reception was made doubly impressive by the clever motif and the splendid program of the Music Department.

Open House followed in the second semester with entertainment throughout the day, culminating in Greyson Memorial by the presentation of two one-act plays.

The Committee closed a successful year with the College Picnic.

Women's Council

The Women's Council is motivated by one central purpose, that of coordinating the activities of the various women's organizations upon the campus. As a secondary purpose, it aims to create social life and activities for the Associated Women students as a whole.

The Council is composed of the women's vice-president, a treasurer, a secretary, and the presidents of the other women's organizations upon the campus including the presidents of the two sororities, Beta Chi and Theta Sigma Gamma, the president of Women's Athletic Association, and the president of the Women's Dormitory.

The Women's Council, as head of all women's organizations, fostered several social activities throughout the year: The annual Women's Hi-Jinx, at the Silver Lake Community House; a Pajama Party; the Women's Formal, and Women's Day.

Martha Shelton, president of the Women's Council and vice-president of the Associated Student Body, and Ella Ellis, secretary of the A. S. B., represented the College at the Intercollegiate Women's Conference at U. C. L. A., thus bringing Chapman into a closer union with surrounding colleges.

Fred Fertig . . . . . Treasurer

As much of the men's social life is lived in the Women's Parlor, the men do not find it so expedient to provide their own entertainment and so they have few parties except those given in conjunction with the women.

Most of the Association's work treats with discipline. Quiet is maintained between ten-thirty p.m. and seven a.m., and rough-housing is discouraged at all times.

On alternate Thursday nights, the men take charge of Guest Night in the College dining-hall, insuring lively entertainment for visitors.

With no proven atrocities, but considerable noise, the Women's Dormitory Association began the year by initiating the newcomers. Later, with chameleon dexterity, the W. D. A. put away the last vestiges of these rites to hold its Chrysanthemum Tea for the mothers of the Association members. This sublimity, in turn, gave way to a more or less oblivious Peanut Day on which the women became anonymous benefactors of one another.

Harkening again to the aesthetic, they held a Valentine Tea for the off-campus women, and maintained this spirit by ending their activities with a Heart Day.

Chapman College can be compensated for the loss of the students who compose the Class of 1935, only by the knowledge that it has given to each a courage of heart and mind that will carry him to a worthy fullfilment of his duty to God and to his fellow-man.

Few classes have had as many members as actively devoted to the work of the College. No class ever left the campus followed by more wishes of good fortune from the students of other classes.

God speed you, Class of '35, and may we be reunited each year to rededicate ourselves to the ideals of the Alma Mater.

So efficient was the Junior's organization of the Freshmen and promotion of the brawl, the first-year men were soon standing on their own feet—and Sophomore necks.

The class managed its own affairs equally well by holding a scavenger party at the Wilkinson home, arranging an exchange assembly with Belmont High School, and holding the now-famous "Insanities" dinner-dance.

To quote Frank Melrose, the Junior President, "The purpose of the class was the usual bull." Aggravated, no doubt, by the usual in-the-red condition of the treasury. Oh, well!

The following quotation qualifies Connor Cole, Sophomore president, as a supreme builder-upper, but when one compares its highly-colored facts with those presented by the Freshmen, two pages hence, truth seems a bit confused.

"The eventful career of the Sophomore Class could probably be better told by the members of the insignificant Frosh Class. In spite of the fact that the Frosh Class was strong the Sophs proved their own superiority by quelling them in their momentous upheavals. In fact, when the Frosh grew too boisterous the Sophs were forced to take their president for a ride, one thing the Frosh never accomplished.

"The Sophomore Class gave a very successful party to the Frosh at the end of hazing season in which friendly feelings were restored."

The self-assured quotation from the secretary of the Freshman class, that follows, should reburnish the tarnished spirits of the upper-classmen.

"We, the Freshman class, aside from our regular activities of eating, sleeping, playing and studying, have participated in a number of important affairs this year. First of all we had our traditional Ditch Party at Sycamore Grove in Pasadena. We didn't have to feed the Sophs, either. Then, we showed our superiority to last year's Sophomore class by thoroughly vanquishing them in the annual Frosh-Soph Brawl. On this same day our women dressed themselves as children to help alleviate the pain inflicted on the Sophs by our men. Later in the year we proved ourselves lovers of the out-of-doors by having a Snow-Party at Mt. Baldy. Aside from these activities which have included the whole class, members of our illustrious body have participated individually in other school affairs. On the athletic field, in the classroom, in social and religious functions we find our class outstandingly represented. We shall continue to be outstanding in the future."

And thus, the modest, self-effacing Class of '38 completes its first lap.

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association of Chapman College is an organization of graduates and former students (non-graduates), started in 1923 by the first graduating class of seven members. This small group initiated our tradition of the Alumni Breakfast, which has been followed since that time.

The Association in its twelfth year now includes two hundred and sixty-nine graduates, and is open to non-graduates for associate membership. Its purpose is to continue the relationship of graduates with the college and to keep alive the friendships begun in our Alma Mater.

Two Alumni, Wilbur C. Parry, '24, and Vaughan R. Harlan, '25, are now members of the College Board of Trustees, which is bringing our Association into a still closer relationship with our beloved institution.

Panther Clubs are local groups of Alumni, formed wherever graduates and former students may desire. This year a plan has been started to organize Chapman Clubs in any church or community having at least one alumnus, who may boost and publicize the college in his locality.

During the past year, the Alumni Association has cooperated with the Associated Students and the Administration in beautifying the Vermont Avenue frontage, and has called two meetings at the request of the Administration to discuss future plans of the college.

A fine Home Coming was celebrated on January 25th with a dinner, large bon-fire, and great basketball game with our old rival, Santa Barbara State, who succumbed to Coach Welch's wonderful team.

Alumni-Varsity basketball and baseball games were played during the year, and the Association had charge of the Chapel Service on May 24th.

One project of the Association is the securing of $5,000 endowment for an Annual Scholarship Award, providing $250 in cash to a Senior. Four awards have been made, but until the endowment is secured, so that interest will annually provide for the amount, no further awards will be made.

After the completion of their first semester engagements, the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs joined in the second semester to form the College Choir, which appeared on programs at the First Christian Church, Eagle Rock, Highland Park, Glendale, Beverly Hills and Hollywood Christian Churches.

The Choir also sang over the radio stations KNX and KFI, beside providing enthusiastically received entertainments for various College affairs.

Chapman College owes much of its popularity throughout Southern California to the concert tours of this group, and to the separate Men's and Women's Glee Clubs.

Mildred Onstott received a choir sweater award for two years' active service.

Forensics

Seeking to develop practical ability in speaking, the forensic department offers great opportunity for any student who wishes to enter into the various activities. With outstanding colleges in Southern California, Chapman College is a member of the Intercollegiate Public Speaking League. This, also, includes a Men and Women's League.

This year in the Oratorical Contest held at the University of Southern California, Phyllis Gruwell represented the College in the Women's League, winning fourth place. Harold Erickson took place in the Men's Oratorical Contest held at La Verne.

In the Declamation Contest Jean Robertson represented Chapman in the contest held in Grayson Memorial Auditorium and won fourth place with her reading. Again this year the College did not sponsor debating as one of its activities. Because of disagreement with the method of intercollegiate debating, it is felt that debate would not aid in arriving at the aims of the forensic department.

Forensic activities on campus were entered into with a great deal of enthusiasm. The first event of the year in local contests was the Annual Interfraternal Oratorical Contest. Mr. Frank Melrose, representing the Kappa Delta Nu fraternity, was awarded first place, and Quentin De Young, Phi Alpha Chi, received second place.

Those entering the Annual Schreck Oratorical Contest were Frank Melrose, Phyllis Gruwell, Doroteo Ines, and Frank Cron. Because the contest was not held until May 14th, after the Ceer had gone to press, the results were unobtainable. The Prohibition Oratorical attracted a large number of students and the orations were excellent as challenges to modern youth everywhere.

Dramatics

Student directors supplemented the splendid work of Mrs. MacKay to give Chapman the best stage year in its history. The presentation of ten plays during the year has built up a drama personnel that may pave the way to a little theater group in our College.

The first three-act play to be directed by Mrs. MacKay was "The Undiscovered Country." Its theme evolved around a woman who had been reclaimed from death to life again by a physician, and the problems that this situation brought to each of the characters.

The Lesser Prophet

Dallas Gladson

No voice crying in the wilderness, the Lesser Prophet finds its way to every student, and especially to the Freshmen, who learn from its pages that the way of the transgressor is hard if the traditions which it contains are not carried out to the letter of each true word.

More than a bible for the dink-men, it contains the constitution of the A. S. B., information concerning athletics, organizations, the dormitories, and extra-curricular departments.

Dallas Gladson merits high praise for his single-handed success in editing the Lesser Prophet for '34-'35.

To realize its purpose to provide a strengthening fellowship for men who are preparing for full-time Christian service, the Ministerial Students' Association withdrew to an overnight retreat at a mountain cabin in Big Tujunga Canyon at the first of the year. Allan Hunter joined them as guest speaker; several faculty members were also present.

Other highlights in the year's program included evening meetings at the homes of President Cheverton, Dr. Hudson, Edgar Lloyd Smith, and Wayne Neal. The year closed with another retreat to the silence of the mountains with Kirby Page as speaker.

Four splendid Gospel teams have served many churches in Southern California; while two of them toured Northern California during the Easter Vacation.

The group this year has been supremely challenged by its great theme, "Building the Kingdom of God." At no previous time have these men experienced such a sense of conviction for the task of the Church as has come from this year of rich fellowship. The personal devotion of every man has been deepened as he has become aware of expanding horizons in the field of religion.

The International Relations Club is primarily concerned with securing world peace, and bringing about a feeling of brotherhood among all races.

It has no set membership, but is an open forum for all students interested in international matters. The talks and discussions of the noon meetings are but a small part of the club's activity, for most of those interested in its goals are working with other organizations and movements to further the cause of peace.

The members have attended the various institutions and conferences devoted to international problems. Outside speakers, familiar with present world conditions, have brought timely messages and have stimulated group discussion.

This group has been invaluable to Chapman College in developing an anti-war conscience, and promoting race fellowship.

Jay De Jarnette.....President

This was the Knights' initial year on the campus. They were organized to promote student morale, engender respect for traditions, to aid at programs by ushering, and help with incidental tasks.

Their greatest work has been in insuring the success of such traditional events as the Soph-Frosh Brawl, the annual Bon-fire, and the men's stags.

Those who are elected to this group must have contributed to the work of student-body groups. They must be worthy to protect the name of their Alma Mater, to uphold the honor of the Panther.

The badge of the Chapman Knights has gained the respect of each student. May the men of future classes carry on in this much-needed organization.

SPORTS

Coach Welch

Basketball

The Chapman College Varsity this year mounted to new heights in the realms of basketball. A record that promises not to be soon surpassed was established consisting of twenty-two victories out of twenty-five starts. Two of the three defeats must be viewed in the light of subsequent victories. A lightning-fast quintet that made up in speed what they lacked in size made the Chapman team one of the highest-touted ball-squads in the Southland. The total points scored by Coach Welch's aggregation amounted to 1,306 or an average of 52.24 points per game as compared to 685 or 27.4 per game for their opponents. Without a doubt this year's team was the most powerful in the history of the school. Much publicity and outside interest was aroused as a result of their impressive record. A vast amount of credit is due the varsity and their mentor, Coach Ralph Welch, for their service to Chapman through the medium of clean, sterling, aggressive, winning basketball.

Twenty-five men of varying degrees of experience and ability faced Coach Welch on October 29th. However, two weeks of workouts enabled him to divide the team into A and B squads. The latter group was placed under the tutelage of Assistant Coach Norman Brown.

The season opened impressively with the entire team getting a chance in a 68-25 victory over Woodbury College.

The Alumni were subdued to the tune of 44-29.

The first week in December was the occasion of the primary disaster. After trampling roughshod over Pomona to win decisively by a 71-19 score on the Tuesday, the Sagehens returned to reverse the tables on Saturday by eking out a 44-43 win.

The following week witnessed wins over Santa Monica Junior College and UCLA Freshmen. A practice game with Occidental resulted in a Chapman victory 42-26.

During the Christmas vacation Los Angeles Junior College was dealt a 37-21 defeat. The second loss of the season was suffered at the hands of Redlands to a 28-24 score. Chapman came back strong in the next two games to administer sound drubbings to La Verne and Cal Tech.

One of the tightest games of the season was played in the return engagement with Santa Monica Junior College on January 8th. Chapman won 37-31.

Journeying to Santa Barbara the Panthers subdued the Gauchos by virtue of a 53-17 score.

In the next game the highest score of the season—94-19—was run up on the USC Dental College team.

Coming back determinedly to avenge a previous defeat the Cardinal and Grey squad took a game from Redlands University 42-36.

A close game with the champion Hollywood Y team witnessed a victory of the local lads 35-30.

Homecoming Day saw Chapman and Santa Barbara meet in a return engagement. A 65-35 score gave Chapman another win.

An overnight trek to Taft was the occasion of a 41-26 victory over the Junior College of that town.

A greatly-improved Cal Tech squad came back to battle valiantly but were repulsed 54-40.

Decisive victories over the 28th St. Y, Cal Poly, USC Dental College and Loyola followed in rapid succession.

The final game of the season was against Whittier. Chapman played some of the best ball of the year but with the breaks against them, coupled with a strong and powerful Whittier quintet, they went down in glorious defeat 35-42.

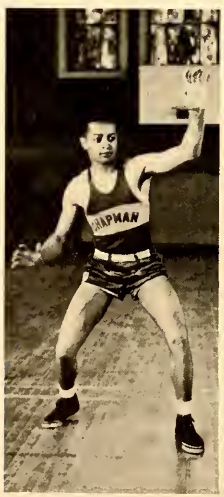
PERSONNEL

CAPTAIN BOB FORBES—guard and forward. A fast player and an accurate passer, Bob was the best floorman on the squad. Cool at all times, a clean sportsman, he did much to instil morale into the team. Bob graduates this year, concluding his third year of varsity ball.

LUND—forward. "Chuck" was high point scorer on the team, averaging more than twelve points per game. With a dead-eye on the basket, plenty of deception, lots of speed and ability to handle the ball, Lund was a mainstay of the team. Returning next year he will be a pivotal point in the machinery of the 35-36 squad.

SLATER—guard and forward. A newcomer this year, Slater easily won a berth on the first five. Gifted with an unerring eye he averaged better than ten points a game. Working with Lund he was part of an uncanny passing combination that once it started to click seldom failed to result in a score. Slater will be back next year.



Williams

Brinegar

Crain

Young

FERRARIS — forward. Playing his second year of varsity basketball. Angy, a fast man and a good shot, aided greatly on the Chapman aggressive front.

WILLIAMS—guard. "Drippy," a newcomer this year, covered the back court like the reputed tents of the Arabs. His ability to bat down shots, break up plays, and intercept passes was phenomenal. Getting shots off the back-board and rifling bullet passes to team-mates down the court was his specialty.

LEWIS — guard. Ellsworth completed his third year of basketball this year and leaves a hole that will be hard to fill. While not a sparkling offensive player he could be depended upon to cover his position completely.

SHERMAN—center and forward. A first-year man, Ben blasted his way into the innermost ranks to stand out as one of the most developed men on the team. Sherman should prove outstanding next year.

BREWER—forward. Though handicapped by height, Brewer was the most aggressive man on the team and could always be found in the thick of the fray. He will not be back next year.

BRINEGAR—guard. John kept trying hard all year and improved greatly toward the end of the season. He is the logical man to fill Lewis' shoes next year.

YOUNG—manager. Clarence had the thankless job of supplying the desires of the team. He was always on hand and did a fine job as manager.

B-Team Basketball

The B basketball team coached by Norman Brown won five out of eleven starts. This year is the first in several that Chapman has essayed to have a B team and the results were gratifying. Several promising men were discovered and given a season's experience that will prove invaluable in the development of next year's varsity. Men who played on the B team included De Jarnette, S. Whitley, D. Whitley, Elder, Franks, Bev Sherman, Dixon, De Young, Konold, Newcomb and Robinson.

Lewis
Track Captain

Track

The 1935 track team, under the dual control of Coach Ralph Welch and Captain Ed Lewis, had a successful season. The calibre of the track squad is to be regarded not from the number of meets won but from the performances of the individual members. Handicapped by inadequate training facilities and insufficient team organization, each man had to get in his workouts when and where he could on the basis of his own initiative. The flat races, with the exception of the 880, were all handled by capable men. The hurdles and weight events were the decided weak points of the team. Only seven points of the entire season's totals were netted in the weight division. With one good man in this field Chapman would have had excellent chances of enjoying a track season with an unblemished record.

The first meet of the season was with Pasadena Junior College and Loyola University. A brilliant trio of sprinters was uncovered in Stevens, Doran, and Rennison when those three placed first, second, and third, respectively, in a ten-flat hundred. Stevens came back to win the 220 in 23.1. Lewis nipped Percy Williams at the tape to take the quarter-mile in 53.2. Moody won the mile in 4:57.1. Other first-place winners were Melrose in the pole-vault and Doner in the broadjump. Chapman forces totalled 48 points to capture second place.

The score-book awarded the next meet to Chapman by virtue of a 72-59 victory over Loyola. Chapman's "Three Musketeers" of the sprintways swept both dashes with Doran clocked in the century at 10s and Stevens in the 220 at 22.4. Captain Lewis edged in ahead of Percy Williams again to pick up a first in the 440. The time was 53.9. Moody and Crain had little difficulty in winning the mile and two-mile. First place in the pole-vault went to Melrose. Doner's spring of 21′ 10½″ in the broadjump gave him a new school record.

The Chapman-Santa Monica meet was the tightest of the season, not being decided until the relay was run and then being dropped by the heart-breaking score of 61 1/6 to 60 5/6. First-place winners for Chapman were Rennison, who was the third member of the sprint team to win a ten-flat hundred. Doran covered the 220 in 23.1. Percy Williams ran a brilliant quarter to take a close race from Bill Stevens and turn in the record-breaking time of 51.8. Moody won the mile in 4:56.3. Carl Crain turned in his best time of the season to win the two-mile in 10:37.2. In his sole meet of the year, Ray Linn tossed the javelin 145 feet to take a first place. Doner was the single double winner of the day, emerging triumphant from both the highjump and broadjump.

La Verne was decisively beaten on the afternoon of Open House by a 78-53 score. Again the Chapman sprint team swept the boards to win all places in both sprint events. Lewis won the quarter and Crain the two-mile. Led by Doner, who again won two firsts, the Chapman jumpers swept both the broadjump and highjump. Melrose tied for first in the pole-vault. A school record of 1:33 was set by the Chapman team in the 880-yard relay.

A triangle meet with Cal Tech and Loyola netted a second place for Chapman who gathered 45 points to Cal Tech's 86½ and Loyola's 27½. The sprinters found more than their equal in Creal of Cal Tech, but Doran in the 100 and Stevens in the 220 pushed him hard enough to force him to run in the flat times of 10s and 22s. Percy Williams ended a long feud when he beat Captain Lewis in the record time of 51.5. Moody and Crain won the mile and two-mile, respectively. Doner took seconds in the broadjump and the highjump while Melrose tied for second in the pole-vault. A thrilling mile-relay was won by Chapman from Cal Tech in 3:31.

Journeying to Fullerton the Tuesday after vacation, Chapman was subdued by a 76-55 count. Again the sprinters were relegated to second places by Stedman of Fullerton who was clocked in 10s and 21.8. Crain and Moody tied for first in the mile. Ed Lewis running both hurdle races secured two seconds. Doner repeated his double win in the broadjump and highjump. The 880-yard relay record was clipped a second when the team of Lewis, Doran, Rennison, and Stevens ran it in 1:32.

Chapman was represented in the Santa Barbara Invitational meet by a mile-relay team composed of Williams, Doran, Stevens, and Lewis. The team ran a spectacular race to take a third place behind USC and UCLA in the excellent time of 3:23.4.

The final meet of the season was held with Santa Barbara State from which dual conflict Chapman returned on the short end of a 71-59 score. Rennison was the surprise of the day when he registered wins in both the 100 and 220 in the times of 10s and 22.4. Stevens, not to be outdone, cracked the 440 record for the third time to push it down to the quite acceptable time of 51.4. The mile went to Moody and the two-mile to Carl Crain. Doner and Chet Crain tied for first in the highjump. A new school record was captured by Doner in the broadjump when he leaped 22′ 4″. Chapman took the half-mile relay in 1:32.1.

PERSONNEL

CAPTAIN ED LEWIS—Ed not only ran and won the quarter in the majority of meets but was always willing to enter another race in which the Chapman forces needed to be bolstered. For a man who had never run hurdles before Ed made a good showing. He also ran anchor lap on the relay team. Ed graduates this year having been a mainstay on the Panther varsity for two years.

DONER—A J. C. transfer who was the high scorer of the team. Emery won ten first places as well as several seconds and thirds. He exemplified a fine spirit which coupled with plenty of ability made him one of the best-liked chaps on the team. Emery will be a keystone in the construction of the 1936 team.

STEVENS—A Compton Junior College transfer and second highest scorer. Bill turned in continual fine performances in both sprints and found time to set a new school record in the quarter. He ran a lap on the relay team. His sprinting ability characterized by drive and power will be in great demand when he returns next year as captain-elect.

MOODY—Joe won his mile event in six meets of the season and placed second in the seventh. On occasion he ran the two-mile when points were needed. Joe tied with Ed Lewis for third place in the individual scoring column. He will return next year.
CRAIN—Carl finished his second year of track at Chapman as a consistent winner in the two-mile and an alternate in the mile. He was a steady plodder with lots of endurance and spirit. Carl leaves a vacant place that will be hard to fill.
DORAN—Bob graduating this year leaves behind him a fine record as one of Chapman's best sprinters. He had the most beautiful running form on the team and was a man whom it was a pleasure to watch run. Aside from handling the sprints, Doran broad-jumped and ran a lap on the relay team.
RENNISON—One of the most-developed men on the squad. Bill passed from a third-place winner in the first meet to a double first-place winner in the last meet. Rennison had a lightning start and a well-sustained drive. He will be a telling factor in next year's team.
MELROSE—Frank was Chapman's sole competitor in the pole-vault and always emerged from that event with a due share of the spoils. Frank will return in the Fall for his third and last year.
CRAIN—Chet was an opportunist who entered any and all events where points were available. His best performances were in the broadjump and highjump. Chet graduates this year.
WILLIAMS—Percy was a steady performer in the quarter-mile. His fast start and beautiful stride made him the initial performer on the relay team. Percy, graduating this year, receives the coveted life-pass that goes to a three-year letter winner in a single sport.
CRAIN—Smith developed nicely and was Chapman's best bet in the 880. A first-year man he will be back next year and should be an integral part of the track squad.
SMITH—A vastly improved middle-distance runner who kept trying. J. V. will be back.
MOSES—A hurdler with nice form who, if he can develop a bit more speed, can be well used in 1936.

Baseball

A new record of twenty games won and five lost was established by the 1935 edition of the Chapman Baseball Varsity. With two of the best pitchers in the history of the school, a strong defensive team with an average offensive push was able to turn down successfully the greater percentage of their opponents. The team received a handicap in starting the year because the condition of the field prohibited any pre-season practice. With but a single infield workout, a rather ragged team behind the steady pitching of Tower took the opening game of the season from Santa Monica Junior College. In the second game with the UCLA Varsity, Chapman was repulsed on the short end of a 4-2 score. The losing streak continued in the next few games which were dropped successively to Loyola, Los Angeles Junior College, and Redlands University. After being defeated in four of the first six starts of the season the Panther aggregation hit its full stride and played the twenty-three remaining games on the schedule with but one defeat. Victories were scored over the leading junior college teams of the South, including Los Angeles, Santa Monica, Taft, Glendale, and Pasadena. Southern Conference teams including Redlands, Whittier, Santa Barbara, and Cal Tech were defeated. Other nines whose downfall added to the Chapman win column were Loyola, SC Dental College, Woodbury, Black-Foxe, and the Alumni.

This year's varsity proved the educational formula that we learn by doing. A heavy schedule of games with three and four engagements a week left but little time for practice. The men became seasoned veterans in a very short time on the field of actual conflict.

Not only from the standpoint of games won, but from the morale and spirit and good sportsmanship exemplified by the players individually and the team as a whole, the entire squad under the leadership of Coach Welch is to be commended upon the high records that they have set. With but two men being lost by graduation and with the prospects of the remainder of the team returning next year the 1936 edition should mount to even greater heights.

PERSONNEL

CAPTAIN TOWER—Pitching winning ball in nine out of twelve games, "Lefty" was the strong left wing of the pitching staff. His throwing ability, coupled with his sensational hitting and playing at the initial sack, made him the most versatile man on the team.

CRAIN—Chet was the slugging right fielder who came through in the pinches with the much-needed hits. His consistency in the outfield made him a man who could be depended upon. Crain graduates this year.

FORBES—Bob played center field. Graduating this year Forbes leaves a position in the outfield and on the batting roster that will be hard to fill.

ANDERSON—A transfer from J. C., Andy was the life and spirit of the infield. From his spot at third base Anderson kept the whole team awake and on their toes by his steady line of chatter. He was an errorless fielder and second on the hitting column. Anderson will be back next year.

BOHANNON—Playing his first year of ball at Chapman, Lee fitted right into the position at second base left vacant by Ferraris. While not a flashy player he was consistent and could be relied upon to smother up any balls that came in his direction.

RENNISON—Playing his second year of ball at shortstop, Bill turned in a year of flashy, sparkling, brilliant baseball. His ability to beat out bunts was phenomenal and once on base his speed made him virtually master of the situation.

JORDAN—A pitcher from J. C. that was revamped first into a third-baseman and then into a catcher, in which latter position he served remarkably well. He had plenty of life and enthusiasm and did much to bolster up the spirit of the entire team. Gifted with a good throwing arm, Jordan not only could whip throws down to second base in short order but could adequately serve as a relief hurler.

ELDER—Playing his third year of varsity ball, Lendel held down the left field position. Lendel was a steady fielder and covered his territory adequately.

SLATER—Roger, playing the first baseball of his career, appeared as a natural who, with a bit more experience, will develop into a first-rate ball player.

WEATHERHEAD—A J. C. transfer who is a natural hitter. For the games he played he led the entire team in batting. He should be an integral part on next year's team.

SHERMAN—An outfielder who showed up to real advantage at the end of the season. He developed considerably and will be seen in plenty of action next year.

KNOWLES—A first-rate pitcher who found the number of most of the batters who confronted him. Out of twelve starts he won ten games. When not pitching he played in the outfield. Knowles will be back next year.

Rennison, Smizer, Towers, Jordan.

The Women's Athletic Association was replete with activities during the past year. Under the guidance and tutorship of President Anita Tefft and Coach Doris Richardson, the terminating year was the greatest in the history of the organization.

Hockey was the major sport of the Fall semester. Managed by Margaret Eichbauer, some twenty girls turned out for this activity. In addition to regular scrimmages between the Cardinals and Greys, the whole squad had several practice games with Los Angeles Junior College. Participation in Hockey Field Day held at Griffith Park on December 8th was another highlight of the season. Girls on the hockey squad included Davis, Ellis, B. Eichbauer, B. Gruwell, Strahl, Oaks, Woods, Louise Hill, Porter, Durant, Miles, Gage, Tefft, Emerson, P. Gruwell, M. Eichbauer, Robles, Woodbury, Haulman, Smith and Neal.

Volleyball, under the management of Eleanor Bothell, was the minor activity for the first semester.

The second semester was occupied with basketball. This sport was in charge of Frances Woodbury. Chapman women entered a team in the Interchurch A League composed of girls above high-school age. All the league games were played in the local gymnasium from which Chapman emerged to win the league without a single defeat. Smith and Emerson were basket-proof guards, holding all opposition to but few goals. The center positions were admirably filled by Tefft and Oaks, a duet of players that advanced the ball down the court with wizard-like speed. M. Eichbauer was unsurpassed at the forward position, breaking all existing records for individual scoring honors. Other members of the varsity squad included Woodbury, Sterkel, Stanley, Haulman and P. Gruwell.

The Junior class emerged victors from an intramural basketball tournament by trouncing the Seniors in the deciding game. Members of the interclass champion team were Oaks, Smith, Woodbury, Davis, Durant, P. Gruwell, and Lindley.

Playground ball concluded the teams' activities for the Spring session. Starting the first of May and followed by a two weeks' practice period, the season was concluded by a three-game series starting May 13th between the upper and lower class-men.

Rhythmics, tennis and archery continued throughout the year. The rhythmics activities were brought to a climax by the presentation of a Dance Drama, "The Nightmare of a Coed," given at a special program in the gym on Friday, May 17th. The drama depicted the problems faced by the typical college woman. The cast included:

Late in the second semester an interclass tournament was held with nineteen contestants. The school championship was decided by a series of matches on May 17th. At the time of writing, Elsie Emerson, last year's winner, and Elizabeth Sterkel loom as probable victors. The Chapman Women's Tennis Varsity was composed of Sterkel, Fong, Emerson, and Smith. On May 11th at U. C. L. A., at the Intercollegiate Tennis Playday Round Robin Tournament, Chapman was represented in the singles matches by Elsie Emerson and in the doubles by Elizabeth Sterkel and Ruth Fong.

Archery caught the interest of many and was well supported both semesters. In a contest held at the end of the Fall semester, Kenneth Hotelling, Ruth Keylin, and Sara Calvin were victors. Cecil Nichols bore off the laurels at the Founder's Day Meet. Chapman entered an archery team in the Sixth Annual Women's Intercollegiate Telegraphic Archery Tournament, held under the auspices of the National Archery Association the week of May 12-19. Archers comprising the team were Nichols, Lindley, Keylin, Wilbur, Lacefield, Oglesby, Harrison, and Hamilton.

A series of Blue Monday Activity Nights were held at which time volleyball, games, and folk-dancing were enjoyed in the gym.

The Women's Athletic Association had charge of Guest Nite on the evening of April 25th. The dining-hall was decorated in the Spanish motif. The program featured David Rike, who played three guitar numbers, and Gretchen Mae Evans, who presented a series of Spanish songs in costume.

Other W. A. A. activities included hiking, beach parties, paddle tennis, badminton.

On May 17th was held the First Annual Women's Day, which marked the formal closing of the women's activities for the year. Under the direction of Mrs. McKay and Miss Richardson, it proved a fitting climax to the year's work. The morning was occupied by various athletic contests and by the presentation of the Dance Drama. A luncheon was presided over by the Women's Vice-President, Martha Shelton. A tea in the afternoon with the president of the Women's Dormitory, Zelda McNamee, as hostess was the occasion for a program of original poetry, musical compositions, and art exhibits. In the evening in the college dining-hall was held the annual formal banquet at which time awards were made and the next year's officers installed.
